

Why Manpuku exists

"Yakiniku" is one of the national meat dishes of Japan, like steak in the U.S., roast beef in England and bulgogi in Korea.

"Sukiyaki" and "Shabu-shabu" are established, and have become recognized in the world as a part of Japanese cuisine. But "Yakiniku" has not as of yet.

We believe "Manpuku" will be the one and only brand to elevate "Yakiniku" to become a world famous Japanese meat dish, alongside "Sukiyaki" and "Shabu-shabu" celebrating Japanese cuisine and culture.

Manpuku currently has

- Five locations in Tokyo

Roppongi / Aoyama / Jiyugaoka / Yoyogi-Uehara / Futako-Tamagawa

- Four locations in California

- Two locations in Yangon, Myanmar
